

Creation State

This directory contains initial concepts, explorations, and early-stage development artifacts.

Purpose

- House nascent ideas in formative development
- Store design explorations and early prototypes
- Maintain experimental concepts that may evolve significantly

When to use Creation State

- New feature ideation
- Visual design exploration
- Conceptual documentation drafts
- Experimental code that is not yet connected to other components

Transition Criteria

Content moves from Creation to Integration when it:

- Forms clear connections with other components
- Establishes a defined role in the overall architecture
- Reaches sufficient maturity for implementation consideration
